- First see how many verses you can remember that teach us that Jesus could come back any time. Then see how many others you can find in the bible.
- Why do you think we don't think or talk more about that truth?
- How can you remind each other of that truth regularly?
- Make a list of people who often don't get noticed. What do you think Jesus would do with and for those people? What can you do? Who will you choose to spend more quality time with this week?

- What do you think distracts you the most from living for eternity? Why do you keep letting it distract you? What must you do to change that?
- Is there anything in your life that you could eliminate so that you could put aside the frantic pace of life?
- Share about a time when you postponed something and then lost the opportunity completely because of that delay.
- Talk about how much of every week you spend pursuing the good life? While these things may not be wrong, talk about what you could have accomplished if that same amount of time was given to relationships.
- Who can you pray for who takes eternity for granted and has not personally received the gift of eternal life? Take time together as a group to pray for those people.
